Format for Study

- No preparation expected
- Open with individual prayer requests
- Read the scripture references aloud and discuss interactively.
- This is expected to a perpetual year-round class with only few intermittent short breaks and without a planned summer break.
- Initially this group will be open to men only, but some sessions may be opened to women if the group participants consent.
- Any personal information that is shared as part of the group process will be regarded as strictly confidential among the participants of the group.
- After five weeks the group will re-evaluate the needs of the participants and decide whether to continue further or terminate.
